3) After the above forms are received, the pathologists' assistant, the IMMC pathology secretary, or the autopsy pathologist will contact the funeral home to confirm when the body will be delivered to the IMMC morgue.

4) The pathologist assistant, the diener, and the pathologist will coordinate the time of the autopsy examination and notify IMMC admissions to inform them of the autopsy so that they can notify the IMMC pathology secretaries when the body arrives.

5) The autopsy will be performed, appropriate tissues sampled, and other studies performed as indicated. Photographs will be obtained if warranted. The pathologist must indicate in the final report the number of microscopic blocks and all additional studies (i.e., cultures, toxicology, cytogenetics, special stains, etc.) for billing purposes.
